

Thursday 21st May

Today's home learning activity:

I hope you enjoyed setting up your shops yesterday. Which coins could you use to pay for the things below?

On Thursdays I usually allocate a maths activity on Active Learn for you. I have put some money activities on there today for all of you to have a go at. However, as the weather outside is so lovely, you might prefer an activity that someone emailed me about yesterday..... Put some coins in the bottom of a paddling pool, reach down and get one and tell someone what coin you have found, then off you go again! I think this sounds great fun 😊 It would work just as well in the bath or in a washing up bowl too.

Have a good day,

Mrs White
